Marshall Denies Charges Of Filing Falsified Claims

Eugene Lee Marshall, former business manager at Canyon Sanatorium, late Monday pleaded not guilty to six charges that he used his position to buy materials for himself and his home.

Specifically, Marshall entered the pleas to four counts of filing false claims against the county, one of embezzlement and one of grand theft. Superior Judge Edmund Scott continued the case until next Monday, when the trial date will be set.

Marshall was arrested on Jan. 25, five months after he was allowed to resign from the county service.

Complaints against him, signed by Dr. Harold Chope, county health director, accuse him of taking county property worth at least $271. The alleged falsification of claims occurred last summer.

Hitchhiker Tells Of $12 Robbery

A hitchhiking army soldier reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday that he was robbed of $12 by a motorist who gave him a ride from San Mateo.

The soldier, PFC Eugene D. O'Connell, 21, said that he was hitchhiking to his base at the Wavecrest Radar Station near Half Moon Bay.

The motorist picked him up about 1:30 a.m. at Crystal Springs Rd. and El Camino Real. The robbery, according to the soldier, occurred at the intersection of Crystal Springs Rd. and the Relief Home Rd.

O'Connell said he remembered sitting in the car, and then waking up at the side of the road. He had a bump under his right eye and a cut on the side of his head. He walked 6 miles back to San Mateo and reported the robbery to San Mateo police.

He described his assailant as a heavy set man with a bushy mustache. The man was about 35 years old and had thick black hair. The car was described by O'Connell as a maroon 1941 Ford convertible coupe.

they found some of the missing property at Marshall's home near Placerville. They brought back with them an electric mixer and a desk ornament. Other materials, such as lawn seed, fertilizer and a sprinkling system, allegedly were charged by Marshall to the county but used at his San Carlos home, from which he moved after he resigned under pressure.

Other cases in superior court Monday:

Carl Berry, 25-year-old San Bruno welder, pleaded not guilty to two counts of statutory rape involving a 15-year-old Woodside girl, and Judge A. R. Cotton continued the case until next Monday to set the trial date. The offense allegedly occurred on Dec. 18 and Feb. 2.

Three youths accused of burglary were arraigned before Judge Cotton and their cases put over a week. They are Michael Carroll, George Rosencranz and Jerome Clark. Carroll and Rosencranz are accused of burglarizing the American Legion Hall, 2398 University Ave., East Palo Alto, on Feb. 13. All three are accused of the burglary of the home of John F. Batchelor, 1903 Valparaiso Ave., Menlo Park, on Feb. 11.

Frank Quinlan, 29, a San Mateo trucker, was placed on probation for two years by Judge Scott. Quinlan admitted passing seven bad checks totaling $590 to the Sport Club, 317 San Mateo Dr., San Mateo. He blamed his action on losses he incurred betting on horses.

Joseph F. Hunter Jr. of Burlingame pleaded guilty to a charge of lewd and lascivious behavior involving a 13-year-old girl on Jan. 5. He asked for probation, and is to be sentenced by Judge Scott on March 28.

APPLICATION REJECTED
Redwood City planning commissioners this week denied an application by the Five Points Drive-In for permission to erect a neon soft drink sign. The city traffic fact finding committee had previously denied the application on the grounds that the sign would be a traffic hazard.

Supervisors Hear Proposal to Ban Self-Serve Stations

The issue of self-service gasoline stations—one which has been fought over in various city councils—late Monday finally landed before the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

The supervisors were asked by the county chapter of the Northern California Service Station Operators' Assn., Inc., to pass an ordinance banning self-service stations in the unincorporated areas.

No action was taken at Tuesday's meeting, but indications were that the board would be split over the issue.

Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch, comparing the self-service stations to cafeterias, said:

"I can't see, if a man wants to serve himself, why he shouldn't be allowed to save some money."

"I'm in favor of prohibiting them," Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey retorted.

"Every Tom, Dick and Harry can grab hold of a gasoline pipe, and he goes in smoking a pipe, cigar or cigarette. There's a definite fire hazard there."

Chmn. Henry W. Edmonds said that the matter has been before the Redwood City and San Carlos City Councils. The San Carlos fire chief, he added, has said that the self-service stations are "no particular fire hazard."

Hatch said that he planned to have a meeting at his home with persons interested in the issue, and at his request the matter was put over and will be carried on the agenda.

The supervisors, at Monday's special session, also:

Approved a minor reorganization of County Treasurer A. H. Sagehorn's office to allow for the hiring of an accountant. The reorganization will follow the retirement on April 1 of Sagehorn's chief deputy, Mrs. Evelyn Wright, who has been in the county service 22 years.

Granted the request of the County Traffic Safety Commission for renting two billboards, one at the north and the other at the south end of the county, to publicize traffic safety measures. The signs, at an annual rental of $492, will bear the slogan: "Speed Kills — Drive Safely."

Authorized signing of the annual contract between the county and the County Fair Assn., by which the latter is made the agent for handling the annual fiesta. The supervisors also authorized the application to the State Division of Fairs and Expositions for $30,000 in the form of a "loan" to the fiesta commission.

Went on record opposing the dissolution of the Brisbane Police Protection Dist. No action was taken.

Referred to the health department, through the district attorney's office, a recommendation by the county poundmaster that the dog ordinance be revised to include a ban on dogs running loose.

Woodside Fire Dept. Seeking New Aide

Ellason's passenger, Bertil A. Jonsson, 26, who also carried only a Swedish driver's license, told the officers that he was teaching his friend to "drive in English."

Jonsson was arrested for being drunk in an automobile, and as he was the instructor, for "possible" drunk driving.

California Highway Patrol Officers Roy Edwards and Robert Code spotted Ellason's car on Bayshore Hwy. near Brisbane. While the fascinated officers watched, the car careened about the highway, and twice went off the road before they succeeded in stopping it.

Mrs. Daisy L. Knapp, 29, of Burlingame, and her 4-year-old son, Jay, of 211 Fourth Ave., were injured when the car driven by Mrs. Knapp crashed into a metal fence at the side of Bayshore Hwy. near Henderson Ave., Menlo Park.

Mrs. Knapp suffered a cut on her scalp and four of the boy's teeth were knocked out when he hit the dashboard.

According to the California Highway Patrol Mrs. Knapp was turning into Bayshore Hwy. when she leaned over to see what her son had in his hand. Her foot slipped off the clutch and the car shot forward into the fence.

Prof. William C. Bark, 39, of the Stanford University History Dept., suffered a cut on his scalp, and John Olmos, 40, Happy Hollow, Woodside, a cut on his nose and abrasions about his face, in an automobile collision on Portola Rd. west of Alameda de las Pulgas.

The CHP stated that the collision was a head-on side-swipe crash involving cars driven by Bark and Henry Rennert, 67, of Happy Hollow. Olmos was a passenger in Rennert's car.

The accident occurred on a narrow road which was torn up and rutted by construction.

They were treated at Palo Alto Hospital and dismissed.

The accident occurred on a curve of Lakeview Way, Emerald Lake, and both vehicles were traveling at slow speeds, the CHP stated.

A SIGHT FOR BLINKERS. Floridians aren't too conscious of sea serpents or mammoth things rising out of the sea. So this sight caused Fort Lauderdale residents to blink their eyes. Then they learned it was only Henry, an educated Brahma show steer, and his trainer Jack Andrews taking a dip in the surf. Both are appearing in the annual rodeo and Orange Festival.

GARDEN: Dolly Harkins Of MP Asks About Orchids

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

Many branches of fairly short stemmed flowers, is not what the florists want, but the green thumb who lets them stay in the garden gets a lot for his money. Marguerites, a form of chrysanthemum, is in the class, and you can do a lot worse than get some of the plants from your nurseryman immediately. They are available in either white or yellow, and both varieties frankly deserve the name "ever-blooming" far more than some of the things so called.

Another free-flowering prospect for planting now in flats, is the aster, which was originally found in China. Petals with a plume effect, such as Astrich Feather, Giant Comet and Lavender Gem, are found just right for many home gardens, although commercial growers strive for long stems as with Aster Giant Harmony.

What To Plant This Week. Flower seeds: Linaria, broadcast in bed. In rows, stock, clarkia, Mexican poppy. Co-bea scandens (fast growing vine).

Transplant: Indian Summer Hollyhock, Lobelia for borders, also begonias, Oriental poppy, perennial phlox, pansy, scabiosa. Roses: Brandywine (yellow); Forty-niner; Diamond Jubilee.

Vegetables: Simpson's black-seeded loose-leaf lettuce. Great Lakes lettuce. Little Marvel (dwarf) peas. Marcross corn. Vines: Concord grape; thornless boysenberry; youngberry. Trees: Deciduous fruits still available. Get ready for Meyer lemon.

Dolly Harkins of Menlo Park writes: "We raise all our own vegetables here in the summer and I have a lot of lovely flowers which are my hobby. Now I would like to try my luck with orchids and gardenias. Could you tell me where I could purchase a book on same?"

There is a Florida gardenia that is hardy enough to take only the usual California winter (not the last one), but for truly satisfactory results with gardenias and orchids, one should provide greenhouse conditions. You might ask at the library for J. W. O'Brien's "Orchids." Also, "Orchids for Amateurs," by T. W. Briscoe. And send 5 cents to Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., for Leaflet No. 206, "Culture of Orchids." Include another nickel for "Gardenia Culture," USDA Leaflet No. 199.

I'd also suggest that anyone interested in growing either orchids or gardenias as a hobby visit some commercial growers, and ask them how easy it is. I've noticed that most people who grow orchids find it takes so much time, the rest of their garden pays for it.

In a patch of "the most gummy adobe soil known to mankind," John and Emma Kenny are trying to make a garden. They had a load of sawdust brought in and wish to know if that will help loosen it, and also ask a repeat of how much gypsum to use.

The sawdust should help. Gypsum can be applied at the rate of a hundred pound sack every 500 square feet—that's a plot 20 by 25 feet.

Any kind of organic matter will help loosen the adobe, and some kind should be used along with gypsum, though it does wonders.

More power to the insecticide companies who have arranged with sprayer makers to put out guns with which to use their insecticides. Several have done so. I've long felt that the pump sprayers were not very satisfactory for the average green thumb. In the first place, they get tiresome, both in the pumping and in the toting about. In the second place, the pressure is erratic.

Now the spray guns have been developed so that liquid insecticides can be measured out in any strength desired. They are attached to the water hose, so you are using the power of the water pressure to apply your sprays, instead of the arm muscles.

Eric Stanford Seeks Post On San Carlos School Board

Eric M. Stanford has announced his candidacy for the board of trustees of the San Carlos Elementary School Dist., according to Miss Pansy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools. A vacancy in the local board will occur when Irving E. Chapman's term of office expires June 30.

Born in San Francisco, and a graduate of the University of California, Stanford has been a resident of San Carlos since November, 1945. He, his wife, Phyllis, and his two sons, Alan and Jim, live at 2084 St. Francis Way, San Carlos.

Stanford is controller, secretary-treasurer, and member of the board of directors of I. Magnin Co., San Francisco. In San Carlos he has identified himself with various civic projects. At present he is serving as chairman of the San Carlos Civil Service Commission and as chairman of Cub Pack 54, Dads' Committee.

"With two boys in the San Carlos schools," says Stanford, "I feel I should do my part to help the school district in its program."

Mrs. Stanford is this year's vice president and program chairman of the White Oaks Parent Teacher Assn. Alan is a pupil in the sixth grade at Central School; Jim is a member of the fifth grade at White Oaks School.

Anderson Backs Fed. Bldg. Plan

The San Mateo Chamber of Commerce today was assured of Congressman Jack Z. Anderson's "heartily cooperation" with its efforts to obtain a federal building for San Mateo.

In a telegram to Henry Misselwitz, chamber manager, Anderson said, "answering your letter of March 11 and enclosing, respecting the acute need of a new federal office building and additional postal facilities in San Mateo."

"Am immediately contacting the Post Office Dept. and will do everything possible to bring about desired results. Will keep you fully advised of further developments and can assure you of my hearty cooperation."

Misselwitz said today the drive for the federal building was gaining momentum, and letters to 200 county organizations urging their members to write congressmen and senators to support the project will be sent out by the chamber later this week.

You've Heard of Wolf In Sheep's Clothing . . .

GLENDALE (AP)—This is the story of a wolf in no clothing. Miss Veda Davis, 23-year-old nurse, told police that a youth drove his car along the curb last night and asked her politely "which way is Montrose?" At first noticing only that he had a crew haircut she replied, "About two miles that way."

Then she saw that a crew haircut was all the young man had on. He started climbing out of the car, apparently more interested in getting to Miss Davis than Montrose.

She dashed into a nearby house and called police. The nudist had fled by the time the law arrived.

Kiwanis Hears Of World Cruise

Cmdr. Jack Dean, USN, was guest speaker yesterday at a meeting of the Redwood City Kiwanis Club and discussed his experiences on the world cruise of the aircraft carrier, USS Valley Forge in 1947.

The Valley Forge made the cruise, he said, with four destroyers and two oilers. He pointed out that the Valley Forge was completed after the war at a cost of $125,000,000, and carries four squadrons of aircraft.

Dean was introduced by Cuthbert Currie, program chairman for the day. John Ball presided at the meeting.

Takes Train on a Toot, Gets 180 Days in Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Here's one Irishman who must celebrate St. Patrick's Day in jail because he took a locomotive out on a toot. Police testified in court yesterday that Edward O'Sullivan, 28, strolled down to the railroad yards, spotted a Diesel engine, climbed aboard and applied the throttle. He was charged with tampering with a locomotive.

Judge Louis J. Kaufman said 180 days.

CAPITAL BRIEFS: Howser Threatens Court Action on Crime Commission Charges

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Fred N. Howser has threatened court action if Governor Warren's crime commission does not comply with his demand to produce all evidence on which two recent crime commission reports were based.

Howser told newsmen last night he wants evidence relating to the crime commission's charges of illegal bookmaking, racketeering, slot machine and other types of gambling. He said he would issue a citation charging commission members with contempt in a court action if they do not comply. The commission on organized crime has accused Howser of dereliction in enforcement of gambling laws.

Warren Olney III, counsel for the commission, was apparently surprised by Howser's announcement. He said he had no comment about what action the commission would take.

J. Frank Coakley, chairman of both the California Peace Officers' Assn. and the State District Attorney's Assn., said the two groups would support Governor Warren's request to continue the crime commission for another year. Coakley is district attorney of Alameda County.

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The assembly education committee today failed to agree on a bill that would set up a thousand $500-a-year scholarships and 250 $750 fellowships for California students.

Committee members tried three times to get the bill out of committee—first by a motion to postpone it indefinitely, then by a motion to send it to the ways and means committee, then with a recommendation, then with a motion to move it out without recommendation.

Each time the motions failed to get a majority vote. Assemblyman Arthur W. Coats Jr. of Yuba City is author of the measure, which he said would cost $700,000 a year.

The education committee approved a bill to liberalize California's needy children relief program. It makes any needy person under 18 who has been deprived of parental support eligible for the program. The state share of the cost would increase $3,743,000, Deputy Social Welfare Dir. C. A. Herbage said.

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The legislature may take a swat at the gnats. The gnats are classed in the same pest list as mosquitoes in a bill introduced today by Assemblyman Ernest C. Crowley, Fairfield. It would include the gnats with their cousins as far as state public department assistance to insect abatement districts is concerned.

Unless the gnats are attacked, maintains the assemblyman, they will continue to spread disease. Crowley said his legislation specifically aimed at the September black gnat infestations of Clear Lake in Lake County. He was there once and recalls: "They're a darned nuisance up there."

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill authorizing the state to acquire Angel Island as a historical monument went to the assembly ways and means committee today, after a vote of approval from the assembly conservation committee.

The author of the bill, Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister, Mill Valley, said he wanted the bill "on hand" in case neither the city of San Francisco nor Marin County is able to acquire the island from the War Assets Administration.

Action on another bill, to appropriate $350,000 for the island's purchase, was postponed at McCollister's request.

Dog Causes Car Crash, Driver Hurt

A car-sick drow Sunday evening caused a car to plunge into a ditch in an accident which resulted in minor injuries to the driver.

Victor Marlin, 49, a Southern Pacific yardman who lives at 344 Oakwood Blvd., suffered a cut over his left eye in the accident. The dog, "Mickey," was not hurt.

Marlin told California Highway Patrol officers that he was driving south on Canada Rd. near the Skyline Blvd. intersection. Mickey, riding in the front seat alongside of Marlin, felt sick when the car went around the curves.

He crawled into Marlin's lap. Marlin, trying to push the dog aside, lost control of the car and it plunged 50 feet off the side of the road, landing on its top.

Marlin was treated at Community Hospital. Only three injury accidents were reported to the CHP during the weekend and none of them was on Bayshore Hwy., where most of the accidents occur.

James R. Wheeler, 37, of 1150 Fife Ave., Palo Alto, and Zenobia Thomas, 39, Palo Alto, suffered minor cuts early Sunday morning when their car overturned on Sand Hill Rd., a mile west of Alameda de las Pulgas.

The car, driven by Wheeler, was rounding a curve when the wheels ran into the muddy shoulder, causing the car to skid and roll over.

Mrs. Elaine Flannagan, 26, of San Francisco was slightly injured when the motorcycle on which she was riding spilled her and the driver, Joseph R. Flannagan, 29, Sunday morning.

The accident occurred on Pescadero Rd. three-fourths of a mile west of the Old Coast Hwy.

Peninsula Transit Takes Over Bus Service

The Peninsula Transit Lines today officially took over operation of the bus line operating in Redwood City, San Carlos and Woodside.

The line, formerly known as the Martin Transportation Co., was purchased from R. F. Martin for $40,000 and was approved by the State Public Utilities Commission.

Operating the line since earlier in the year has been the Palo Alto City Lines, which today changed its name to the Peninsula Transit Lines. The firm had been leasing its buses to Martin since early in the year.

John P. Demeter is owner of the Peninsula Transit Lines. He formerly was owner of the old Emerald Lake line and former owner of the Yellow Cab Co. here. Worth B. Prine is general manager and Lee V. Harper is superintendent of buses.

Personnel of the bus line will remain the same, Prine said. Redwood City residents will be given preference in future hiring of personnel, he declared.

A complete engineering of all routes will be undertaken in the next 60 days to ascertain if routes are over or under serviced. Schedules will be added and routes will be extended where feasible to do so.

The Redwood City-San Carlos-Woodside division of the firm will run as a complete and separate division of its own, Prine pointed out.

A total of $53,000 in bus equipment has been allotted to this area. There will be 12 27-passenger Ford Transit Coaches and one 41-passenger Twin Coach.

All phases of the operation will remain the same for the present, Prine said, but stated schedules would be changed from time to time. Schedules will be arranged to meet all possible commuter train schedules, Prine declared. Trains carrying the greatest number of commuters will be given preference.

Demeter had told the Public Utilities Commission that purchase of the Martin line would result in more efficient service and economy by joint use of shops, accounting, etc.

The line purchased from Martin operates a bus service between San Carlos, Redwood City, Atherton, Menlo Park, Palo Alto, Woodside and Toyon Knolls.

Supervisors Assail Plans For Bridge
Plans for construction of a parallel bay bridge were assailed again Tuesday by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, which announced its intention to work for a southern crossing.

Chmn. Henry W. Edmonds, a director of the Bay Area Council, asked that the others go with him to a council meeting on Apr. 1 to lay the board's views before the other officials.

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey, who raised the bay crossing problem today, said that plans for the parallel bridge do not take into consideration needs of the Peninsula.

Edmonds told the others that when the Bay Area Council's board of directors voted endorsement of the parallel crossing, he voted against it.

"What advantage does the parallel bridge have to offer San Mateo County?" Supervisor Edward R. McDonald demanded.

"The army engineers claim that one bomb could blow up the parallel bridge."

"It appears to be something promulgated by Alameda County, with no advantage to either the Peninsula or San Francisco."

The bay bridge issue was raised at the conclusion of a regular meeting out short because two members of the board planned to attend a meeting of the California State Fair Assn.

During Tuesday's session, the supervisors:

Awarded to Dean Witter & Co. the contract for sale of $59,000 worth of Pescadero Elementary School Dist. bonds. The firm entered the lowest bid, with an average interest rate of 2.747 per cent.

Reappointed Perry Bygones and Gaston Periat to the San Mateo County Housing Authority.

Referred to the planning commission a request by the Taft School Parent Teacher Assn. for installation of traffic warning and speed limit signs near the school.

Books at Public Library

GARDENING TIME
Redwood City is one of the richest garden sections in the state of California. Garden enthusiasts long have been in the habit of consulting books in the garden collection of the Redwood City Public Library.

Among the new books to interest garden lovers is YOUR BOOK OF GARDEN PLANS by N. A. Morris, landscape architect. New home-owners should find this literally illustrated book useful in creating attractive livable home grounds.

DWARF FRUIT TREES, by Lawrence Southwick, explains the advantages of growing fruit at a level where it can be easily cared for and picked. Ten dwarf apple trees can be grown in the space it takes for one ordinary apple tree.

BEGONIAS FOR AMERICAN HOMES AND GARDENS by Helen K. F. Kraus. This book is primarily concerned with begonias grown in America, their history, origin of our hybrids and those imported from other countries, and their culture.

Harold H. Hume has two books on azaleas, AZALEAS, KINDS AND CULTURE and AZALEAS AND CAMELLIAS which should be of use to the many enthusiastic gardeners who have made them a hobby.

Another specialty group are the African Violet lovers. Helen Van Pelt Wilson has a new book called THE AFRICAN VIOLET SAINT PAULA which can be read with pleasure and profit by all who have wanted to know more about this beautiful houseplant.

MRS. FOOTE'S ROSE BOOK, HOW TO GROW ROSES by Robert Pyle. CLIMBING ROSES by G. A. Stevens. ROSES FOR EVERY GARDEN by R. C. Allen are all worth the rose gardener's attention.

QUICK FREEZING AND FAMILY FOOD GARDENING by Gordon Morrison gives directions for growing vegetables, berries, and other fruits. It includes directions for quick freezing these as well as meats, fish, poultry and miscellaneous foods.

THE ENCYCLOPEDIA OF TREES, SHRUBS, VINES AND LAWS FOR THE HOME GARDEN by A. E. Wilkinson has been especially planned to give the home gardener the information he needs in selecting and successfully caring for the trees, shrubs, vines and lawns on his own home grounds.

L. H. Bailey's book GARDENER'S HANDBOOK, which is a successor to THE GARDENER gives brief indications for the growing of common flowers, vegetables and fruits in the garden and about the home.

These books and many more similar ones should help Redwood City gardeners make this season their most successful garden year.

Seven Injured In SSF Accident

Seven persons, including two small Millbrae children and their parents, were injured late Saturday in a two-car crash on El Camino Real at the entrance of the Buri Bur tract in South San Francisco.

Escaping from the accident with minor injuries were the four members of the Donald Yarbrough family of 60 Chadbourne Ave., Millbrae.

The Yarbrough car and one driven by Arthur Lundburg, 70, of 200 Eucalyptus Ave., South San Francisco, were involved in the accident. Lundburg, who was the sole occupant of his car, is at Franklin Hospital where his condition was reported as "serious." He suffered head and neck injuries and shock.

Donald Yarbrough, 26, his wife, Loretta, 30, and their sons, Tommy, 2, and James, 3, suffered numerous bruises and cuts.

Also seriously injured and a patient at South San Francisco Hospital is James Stafford, 32, of San Francisco, who suffered head injuries. Another guest in the Yarbrough car, Mrs. Loretta Walters, 49, had slight shock and a leg injury. All the accident victims were rushed by ambulance to South San Francisco Hospital.

Charles Sailor To Marry Again
Charles Sailor, principal in a sensational divorce case 18 months ago, Wednesday took out a license to marry a pretty blonde airline hostess whom he met while returning from Australia a year ago.

Sailor, 31, of 907 Woodside Rd., and Barbara Quigley, 26, San Francisco, are to be married in San Francisco at 4 p.m. Sunday, but they refused to say in what church.

The two said that after the wedding they plan to go on an extended honeymoon "down South" but would return to make their home on the Peninsula.

Miss Quigley was born and raised in Chicago, and worked for Pan-American Air Lines.

Person Who Knows Flowers Turns Thief

Persons who apparently know flowers during the weekend looted expensive plants from the new County Agricultural station at Pine and Heller Sts.

Agricultural Cmsr. Max J. Leonard said that about $35 worth of plants were taken. They had been planted around the front and side of the building.

One of the plants was a rare camellia plant, Bella Romana, a hybrid developed by a local grower. Leonard said another was a fine daphne plant, Odora Marginata.

Glendale Man Is Held On Drunk Driving Count

William R. Jackson, 23-year-old Glendale shoe salesman, was arrested at 1:30 a.m. Monday by San Carlos police on charges of drunken driving. Jackson was held at county jail in lieu of $250 bail and is to appear on Mar. 18 before Judge Rupert Johnson.
